Test there, license here

The road and maneuverability tests are administered at a state driver exam station, not at an official DMV or BMV office. After you pass, official DMV or BMV offices issue your license.

BRING THESE

Bring to the exam station

-  Your TIPIC
Bring the physical temporary permit. No permit, no test.
-  Photo identification
Acceptable photo ID in addition to your permit.
-  A safe, legal vehicle
Working signals, brakes, horn, and tires. The examiner inspects it before testing begins.
-  Insurance and registration
Current proof of insurance and valid registration for the test vehicle.
-  A licensed driver
Someone licensed must accompany you. You cannot legally drive home alone until your license is issued.

DECISION POINT

Before and after the test

Schedule ahead

Book through the BMV's online scheduler with your TIPIC, date of birth, and last four of your SSN. Reserve three to four weeks out.

After you pass

Bring your passing documentation, TIPIC, and identity documents to an official DMV or BMV office to be issued the license.

AT THE VISIT

Simple steps

- 1 Schedule the test through Ohio BMV Online Services.
- 2 Pass the maneuverability exercise and the road test at the exam station.
- 3 Collect your passing documentation from the examiner.
- 4 Come to an official DMV or BMV office with your documents to choose Standard or REAL ID and be issued your license.

Avoid a return trip

Do not come to an official DMV or BMV office expecting to take the road test. DMVQ does not administer testing.

Do not bring a vehicle that will fail inspection. Check signals, brakes, tires, and horn first.

Do not let your temps expire. Test and get licensed before your TIPIC lapses.
